Business Analysis: Requirements Analysis, Business Requirements, Stakeholder Communication, Data-Driven Decision Making

PROJECTS

Spotify Wrapped, Personal Project — Aug 2026
- Identified peak listening patterns by analyzing 8,753 streaming records in PostgreSQL, finding Monday as the highest-volume listening day and September as the peak month; connected increased Monday activity with homework deadlines through workload-pattern analysis.
- Built an interactive Tableau dashboard with KPI tracking for total hours and days streamed, artist/song diversity, peak listening periods, and monthly top-10 artist stream counts using heatmaps and trend visualizations.

Netflix Content Performance Analytics, Business Analytics Class Project — May 2026
- Identified distinct viewing patterns by content type by analyzing 1,000+ records across 4 datasets, finding that TV shows were associated with longer watch times while movies generated higher view counts.
- Flagged Cocomelon as a performance outlier through scatterplot analysis, identifying the TV show as having both unusually high view counts and extended watch time relative to other titles.
- Built an interactive Power BI dashboard after retrieving data through REST APIs (using Bruno/VS Code) and cleaning/validating datasets in Excel, using KPI cards, scatterplots, slicers, and visualizations to compare viewership, watch time, content type, and market share.

Database Management for a Mental Health Facility, Group Class Project — Dec 2025
- Translated client needs into a structured database solution by leading a 4-person team through client interviews, sample data creation, and query optimization.
- Strengthened data structure and query usability by designing an ERD, overseeing database creation and SQL query design, and documenting the implementation in a user manual.
